Ducat Plans, Cast Set for BYU July Drama

Tickets for the first play of the summer session may be secured by calling the Speech and Drama Dept., ext. 2112, or by calling Harold I. Hansen, department chairman.

Hansen is also the director of the play, "The Lady's Not for Burning" by Christopher Frye. It is scheduled to be produced Tuesday, July 7, through Saturday, July 11, in the Theatre (250 Arts Building).

This play has been described as one of the most popular in modern theatre. It was first produced in England. It is in verse.

The plot of "The Lady's Not for Burning" is simple; much by the telling. The hero is a world-weary soldier who is to die; the heroine a young woman accused of witchcraft, who is to be burned, but wants to live. They are brought together by fate and fall in love.

CASTING THE leading roles in the production will be Fred Hansen, who will play Thomas, the world-weary soldier, and Martha C. Ryan, who will play the heroine, Jeanne. Other cast members include: Robert Jourdeymayne, the woman accused of witchcraft.

Film Classics Plan Thursday Outdoor Show

"Tension at Table Rock" this week's Film Classic, will be shown at Brigham Young University's summer "walk-in" theatre Thursday night with the show starting at 8 p.m.

The show will be presented in the Heritage Hall Patio and will also feature several cartoons. Admission price is 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. Free refreshments will be served.

"Tension at Table Rock" is a technicolor feature starring Richard Egan, Dorothy Malone and Cameron Mitchell. It will also be shown Friday and Saturday nights at 7 p.m., Friday afternoon at 4:15 and Saturday at 5 p.m. in 167 McKay.

Walt Disney's "Dumbo" is this week's Children's Classic and will be shown Saturday at 2 p.m. in 167 McKay. Admission is 15 cents.

Paganini Programs Continue...

String Quartet Plans Concerts for Friday, Monday Evenings

Paganini Quartet will give concerts in the next few weeks as the 21st Annual Music Festival at Brigham Young University continues.

The first concert will be held Friday night at 8:15 p.m. in the Student Hall of the Smith Family Living Center. It is the sixth concert of the series.

PROGRAM will consist of:

1. "Quartet No. 6" by Bartok

2. "Quartet in C major, Opus 131" by Beethoven

3. "Quartet in F major, Opus 135" by Beethoven

4. "Quartet No. 3" by Fuleihan

5. "Quartet in G major, Opus 18, No. 2" by Beethoven

6. "Quartet in F major, Opus 135" by Beethoven

7. "Quartet No. 3" by Fuleihan

8. "Quartet in G major, Opus 18, No. 2" by Beethoven

9. "Quartet in F major, Opus 135" by Beethoven

10. "Quartet No. 3" by Fuleihan

11. "Quartet in G major, Opus 18, No. 2" by Beethoven

12. "Quartet in F major, Opus 135" by Beethoven

of "Quartet No. 6" by Bartok and Beethoven's "Quartet in C major, Opus 131."

On Monday night, the group will perform at 8:15 p.m. in the Joseph Smith Auditorium. For their seventh performance, the Paganini Quartet has selected two quartets by Beethoven and one by Fuleihan.

Beethoven's "Quartet in G major, Opus 18, No. 2" and "Quartet in F major, Opus 135" will be performed, along with "Quartet No. 3" by Fuleihan.

PAGANINI QUARTET will give a total of 10 concerts at BYU this summer. It is the twelfth summer in a row that the famed musical group has been in residence at the university.

Their three concluding concerts will be given next week. The ten concerts brings the total given at BYU by the group to 106. This is probably a national record, according to Herald R. Iyemom, committee.

DAVID SCHWARTZ is making his first appearance with the group this year. He replaced the late Charles Foidart, who died in January, and will play the violin. Others in the quartet are: Henry Temlanka, first violin; Charles Libove, second violin; and Lucien Laporte, cello.

DANCERS SLATED THURSDAY—Guest artists to appear in Thursday's BYU assembly program are Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Von Konsky, noted folk dancers who are on campus this week to instruct dance classes.

'Summer Maze' Theme Of 'Stag Style' Dance

"Summer Maze" is the theme of this week's studentbody dance. It will be held Friday from 9 p.m. until midnight in the multi-purpose area and patio of the Smith Family Living Center.

Admission will be by studentbody activity card and those without cards will not be admitted, according to Joan Starlin, dance chairman.

A CAMPUS COMBO, as yet unannounced, will furnish the music for the dance. Dress will be "cool and casual" and refreshments will be served. Intermission entertainment will be provided.

"Stag is the style" at this dance, however, dates are legal, according to the dance planners.

A SPECIAL feature of summer studentbody dances will be a period devoted to teaching new dances to the students, according to Joan Ashby, studentbody vice president.

Miss Ashby also recommends that students attend the Paganini Quartet concert before they go to the dance since the dance will not begin until 9 p.m.

Chairmen of the Friday night dance is Miss Starlin, Kelly Evans is in charge of refreshments, Marshall Chatwin is publicity chairman, and Verlene Speckman is chairman of the decorations committee.

Information Office Asks for Students' Addresses, Phones

The pretty voice which answers the information number on the campus has asked all summer students and faculty to check their phone number and address in the Smith Family Living Center lobby.

For those who remember information as part of the floor plan in the Joseph Smith Building from this day on the SFLC will house the campus information office.

Many calls come to the information desk and because of incomplete records the person cannot be located.

Folk Dance Team Plans Thurs. Show

A program of folk dancing and interpretation will be presented Thursday at 9:45 a.m. as the regular assembly face in the Joseph Smith auditorium.

GUEST ARTISTS will be Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Von Konsky, Oakland, Calif., who will present the program on the invitation of Dean A. Peterson, director of summer school.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Konsky will be special instructors on campus from June 22 to June 27. They have studied under many international dance authorities and are considered authorities on the ethnic dance.

THEY MADE two trips to Europe to do dance research. On the first trip they led a folklore tour through 13 countries. On the other tour they were representatives of the Folk Dance Federation of California at the World Festival in Biarritz, France.

They have conducted dancing classes over a period of 16 years.

Miss Doreen Kurr Sets Organ Recital Sunday Evening

A graduate organ recital will be given Sunday at 8:45 p.m. in the Joseph Smith Auditorium by Doreen Kurr, student of J. J. Keeler, university organist.

Miss Kurr has been the recipient of the Keeler-Kitzroy Music Scholarship Award and the De Jong Organ Award.

The program will include the G Minor Prelude and Fugue of Bach, the C Minor Paganini and Fugue of Bach, the first movement of the Sonata No. 2 of Hindemith, a Chorale Improvisation by J. J. Keeler, and Preludio by Respighi.

Economic Workshop Closes Friday

A Friday evening dinner marks the end of the seventh annual Economics Workshop held under the sponsorship of Brigham Young University and the Joint Council on Economic Education from New York with local industry and business as co-sponsors.

Dr. Weldon J. Taylor, Glen T. Nelson, Kenneth J. Davies, Glen Ovard, Julia Caine, and June Berry from BYU are the people who are in charge of the workshop.

THIS WORKSHOP has been the scene of advanced work in a comparatively new area for public education, that of economics, or the study of money, its spending, its value, and its purpose in society.

Many varied teaching procedures are presented by the staff to workshop people in the form of demonstrations, exhibits, panels and lectures from the top people in Utah in phases of economics.

THEY COVER all aspects of the economic world, Friday, the final day, the class members will cap the three weeks by sharing their abstracts and teaching sections of their projects to other members of the workshop.

The workshop people live in Amanda Knight Hall and do their work there. They eat, drink, and sleep economics for three weeks, 10 hours a day. Their schedule begins at 8 a.m. and doesn't close until 10 p.m.

THERE ARE 34 people attending the workshop. They come from Utah and Nevada.

Leaders of business and industry have spoken during the three week period. William H. Edwards, financial adviser to the first presidency of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, spoke, along with George Goodell, chairman of the Board of Utah Power and Light, Henry Pearson of Utah Foundry; H. H. Fisher, Salt Lake Industrialist; Elroy Nelson, First Security Bank; Harvey G. Hogle Investment, Provo, and Ed Allen who is on the Board of the Joint Council on Economic Education from New York.

From BYU, Dean Ann Woodruff and Betty Lou Garner also spoke during the sessions.

Planners Announce Date For Annual Timp Trek

The majestic silence of Mt. Timpanogos will be broken July 17 and 18 when thousands of hikers start out for "destination summit."

Plans for the 44th annual Timp Hike have been announced by C. J. "Chick" Hart, hike chairman and professor of recreation and physical and health education.

"THIS HIKE HAS an important purpose. It gives people an opportunity to look over this great valley from a high pinnacle. It widens the perspective and creates a top-flight recreational experience," he told the planning meet Tuesday.

The pre-hike program, to be climaxed with a giant bonfire, will get underway at Aspen Grove July 17 at 8 p.m.

Aspen Grove is reached from Highway 189 (Provo Canyon) which enters the Alpine Road at Wildwood.

THE OFFICIAL TREK up Mt. Timpanogos will begin Saturday July 18, at 4 a.m.

Last year, more than 2,000 hikers reached the summit and received traditional summit badges.

Increased facilities to insure safety of hikers are being brought into play this year. A fully staffed battery of walkie talkie radios will establish contact from Aspen Grove up the trail to the summit.

A HUGE COIL of 1-inch rope will be taken up the mountain prior to the hike. It will be anchored to a metal pole in the glacier area to assist hikers over some of the steeper rises.

The community hike is sponsored annually by Brigham Young University in cooperation with Provo civic clubs, U. S. Forest Service, Provo Chamber of Commerce and law enforcement agencies.

Assisting Prof. Hart on the general committee are Clayton Jenkins, Paul Felt, Clarence S. Thorneck and Israel Heaton.

Timp Cave A 'Must' for Vacationers

by Phil Herbert
Summer Universe Writer

(Editor's note: This is the first of a series of Tips on Trips that can be taken in Provo and surrounding area during the summer months.)

TOO MANY BOOKS spoil your broth! If so, and if you could find three hours of time, a pleasant trip would be possible.

Just 20 miles northeast of Provo is located the Timpanogos Cave National Monument. Here nature has covered a cave with lavish crystals which glow and sparkle like jewels. Feathered boas, braided wreaths and needle like stalactites are among the smaller feature features which culminate in fantastic formations named "The Jewel Box, Chocolate Falls, and the Great Hatch of Timpanogos."

THE CAVE itself was named after the mountain it dwells in, Timpanogos. This 12,000 foot mountain was believed to be named Timpanogos by the Paiute Indians. It means "Woman Lying Down." This name came from the rugged skyline which resembles a woman who is lying down.

To get to the cave follow the main highway to Pleasant Grove and turn off there. Follow the road through Pleasant Grove to the American Fork Canyon road and drive up the canyon to the sign of "Timpanogos Cave."

ADQUATE PARKING is available and the average temperature is 42 degrees. That would be cool on these hot summer days.

In The World of SPORTS

by Lawrence Bray

BYU

To a student who has been kicking around the BYU campus since 1951 (and there are a few of us), the new facilities are going up so fast and so numerous that it just doesn't seem to be the same BYU at all.

I am especially impressed with the tennis courts and the outdoor basketball courts that were merely part of the landscape a short time back.

For years a person who wanted to play tennis in Provo just plain had to wait his turn and the BYU courts, being the best in town, were always crowded. If you were lucky enough to finally secure a court you had to play fast to get a set in before dark, since there were no lights. Many a torrid tennis match has been called on account of darkness.

You still might have a slight delay getting a court even with the new facilities now available. The waiting should be worth it however, since the arresting array of lights enables night playing in somewhat cooler atmospheres than formerly.

The new outdoor basketball courts will see plenty of use also. Basketball players and would be basketball players have flocked into the fieldhouse in droves since 1951, and the two east gymnasiums were crowded to capacity and more on many occasions. A good deal of the traffic will be diverted outside in the future.

BOXING

The Heavyweight Championship of the world will be up for possible grabs tonight when Champion Floyd Patterson faces Sweden's Ingemar Johansson at Yankee Stadium in New York.

Ingemar, who is reputed to have a very strong right hand, has stirred up a great deal of controversy since he came to the United States to train. His training camp has a certain picnic atmosphere, where he and his fiance and host of followers have devoted themselves seemingly more to pleasure than to serious training.

Patterson, on the other hand conditions himself to a fine degree for all his fights. He has successfully overwhelmed all challengers since becoming champion, but has received much criticism from the American press for allegedly not fighting the top contenders for the crown.

Ingemar, who knocked out a top ranked American heavyweight his last time out, Eddie Machen, is considered the best contender Patterson has met since he fought the light-heavyweight champion, Archie Moore.

WIMBLEDON

Alex Olmedo, the Peruvian who paced the United States to victory in last year's Davis Cup challenge round entered the second round of Wimbledon, England's famous tennis tournament yesterday against Rodney Mandelstam of South Africa. Olmedo is favored to win the tourney.

In the women's division three United States representatives are still in the running for the championship. They are: Mimi Arnold, Joan Johnson and Karol Fageros. Althea Gibson, last year's winner for the United States is not entered.

An American woman has won the tournament every year the tournament has been held since 1938. This is some record ladies. The men cannot boast a record as good.

DO IT LIKE THIS—Two instructors show youths at the BYU Youth Clinic how to use starting blocks.

85 LDS Boys Enroll In BYU Youth Clinic

Brigham Young University is sponsoring a unique two-week youth clinic that provides a daily program of spiritual, enrichment and athletic activities for eighty-five Latter-day Saint boys now on campus.

The purpose of the program, according to Paul Felt, clinic director, is to provide LDS boys in the 12-16 age group an opportunity to mingle together in two weeks of fellowship, wholesome fun, recreation and personal development.

MORNING ENRICHMENT activities include courses in personal development, creative arts, reading, chorus, and creative drama.

Since boys in this age group are particularly interested in sports, the afternoons of the clinic are being taken up with athletics, including supervised participation in tennis, basketball, baseball and track.

Spiritual activities include daily participation in group prayer and attending a class on "Youth and Religion in a Changing World," taught by Ward H. Magleby, LDS seminary teacher and former bishop.

THE CLINIC was developed by Richard Hirtzel, supervisor of special courses and institutes in BYU's Adult Education and Extension Services, which is sponsoring the clinic along with the College of Recreation, Physical and Health Education, and Athletics and the College of Education.

Special evening activities available for youth clinic members include a film classic, swimming, a camping trip, tour and a Pageant Quareet.

Wymounters Lose 8-2; Place Fourth

Wymount Village, one of two teams from BYU playing in the Provo city softball league, finished first half play in fourth place.

After a poor start (four current losses), the Wymounters won five straight games, but lost an all-important fifth game to Central Utah Motors, 8-2. Wymount win would have created a three-way tie for first place.

WYVIEW, THE other BYU representative, is in last place mostly due to the graduation loss of several key players.

LeGrande Young, who plays for the Provo Thirteenth Ward team, is the leading hitter in the league with a .527 average. He is also a BYU football player. Ed Lewis, also a BYU football player (.475), and manager Mark W. Wagner (.400), both of Wymount, are also among the league hitters.

For a time the Wymount line-up read like a BYU football line-up. In addition to Hal Lewis, the team included R. K. Brown, Howard Ringwood, Lennie Dennis and Wayne Startin. Ringwood and Startin are no longer with the team.

THE SIX-TEAM Provo league is one of the best in the state.
